Hi Neighbors,

Here's what's happening in the Liberty Heights Park neighborhood:

- Neighborhood Survey – Tell Us What Matters
 - Save the Date – Rooted in Community (Spring Gathering)
 - New Neighborhood Street Signs

Neighborhood Survey – We Want to Hear From You!

The graphic features a circular illustration on the left showing a green lawn, a white path, a brown house, and a tree. To the right, the text reads: NEW NEIGHBORHOOD SURVEY! Help Shape Our Neighborhood's Future. Below this, a dark green box contains the text: Tell us what YOU want from LHPNA! • What do you want more of? • What excites you? • What can we improve together? At the bottom, it says: Complete by March 15 to enter a prize drawing! LHPNA.org

We're kicking off a new neighborhood project — and it starts with listening.

Watch your mailbox for a postcard with instructions, or visit LHPNA.org to participate.

What kinds of events, projects, or resources would help you feel more connected here?

We'll share what we learn — along with next steps and ways to get involved — at our upcoming Rooted in Community gathering (details below) and on our website.

Save the Date – Rooted in Community

Join us Sunday, 4/26 (afternoon; time TBD) at Liberty Heights Park (pavilion + park grounds) for Rooted in Community — a spring gathering designed to bring neighbors together for engagement and conversation.

We'll:

- Share survey results
- Invite collaboration on future projects
- Preview a summer event proposal based on your feedback
- Offer simple, family-friendly “Rooted” activities

More details coming soon — we hope you'll join us!

New Neighborhood Street Signs

We had our first spotting!

Keep an eye out for the new street signs and see how many you can find around the neighborhood (there will be 23 total ).

Let us know if you see one!

See you around the neighborhood,

The LHPNA Board
